About Anusandhan Pravah:

Anusandhan Pravah a peer-reviewed multidisciplinary Online Research Journal is an annual online publication in English and Hindi that aims to publish academic articles on various areas of humanities and social science. Additionally, it publishes book reviews, commentaries, short communications, case study with critical analysis. Readers are free to voice their opinions on a wide range of academic topics. The authors' opinions and justifications in their articles and commentary are entirely their own. According to widely established publication rules, manuscripts are selectively chosen for publication based on peer review, which helps to publish works of exceptional worth.
